PUT THE QNX STRATEGY TO WORK FOR YOU

The QNX distribution strategy efficiently handles the growing market and ever-increasing demand for QNX products worldwide. Simplified order processing, faster product delivery, and price discounts help you provide better service and value to your customers.

You'll also have the opportunity to work closely with QNX account representatives, who will help you develop your QNX market. As well, you'll enjoy a distribution service that scales to meet even the most aggressive market demand for our products.

DIFFERENTIATE YOUR COMPANY WITH QNX CERTIFICATIONS

QNX Software Systems has built its business on product reliability and exemplary customer service. We'll help you maintain those high standards through certification and after-sales programs.

QNX offers instructor-led, hands-on technical training at locations around the world. Through our technical certification program, your engineers will learn how to install, configure, code, trouble-shoot, and support all of our products. With our computer-based training certification program, your sales personnel can learn how to position and sell QNX at their own pace – wherever and whenever their schedules permit.

In short, QNX sales and technical certifications offer you an important competitive advantage: you earn the reputation as a QNX-approved and supported distributor.

REAP THE REWARDS OF WORLD-CLASS CUSTOMER SERVICE

As a member of the QNX Solutions Network, you'll leverage the world-class expertise and global reach of the QNX Support Center. One call to QNX provides you with complete support for all QNX products, so you'll be able to meet your customers' needs promptly and thoroughly.

You can also tailor your QNX support to match customer requirements and budgets. Our Standard Support plan provides a solid base for you to build a value-added solution. Or if you want QNX to deal directly with customers on your behalf, a Priority Support plan allows you to do just that.

Working together, we can deliver the best-in-class services our customers deserve.

“We use our QNX sales and technical certifications to build our credibility and generate new business. Customers know that we're well qualified to handle their QNX RTOS requirements, and that capability opens doors.”

Kjell Ragnhildrod
Main Founder and Chairman, ARX Innovation AS, Asker, Norway
